This module allows you to show featured items from the SOBI2 business index. The layouts available are the same as for the featured items pro module: default, tab pane, accordion, and thumbnails only. The example shown here on the right is for the accordion layout.

The module is highly versatile. As well as allowing you to display your choice of SOBI2 fields, you can choose to display image thumbnails. You can display items using a variety of orderings, including a random selection, and can choose specific categories to display, or you can list specific entries to display. You can also use a search string for the title, for example if you only wish to display items beginning with the letter 'A'.
